NOTES

Members present: Marty Atkins, Alli Chryst

Staff are feeling that they cannot add more to their plates. We must be careful to not bring a like a short training. Maybe train administrators first.

I like the idea of short, targeted review and think this would be well worth the time. It is important to be consistent across middle schools.

At elementary, we are all working in separate ways. How do we make the training we do address common languages and targeted to specific school needs.
